

LITTLE MAMA BURNS ANSWERS THE PHONE

Written By: Tracy Sanders
Illustrated By: Shane Sanders

This is Little Mama Burns. She used to work at the Bank. People would drive their cars up to the window at the Bank. She would give the people lots of money

Then one day Little Mama Burns stopped working at the Bank. She got a job working for a plumber. His name was Goolay the Plumber Burns. Goolay fixed toilets, and dishwashers, and sinks, and pipes, and showers, and water heaters, for people.

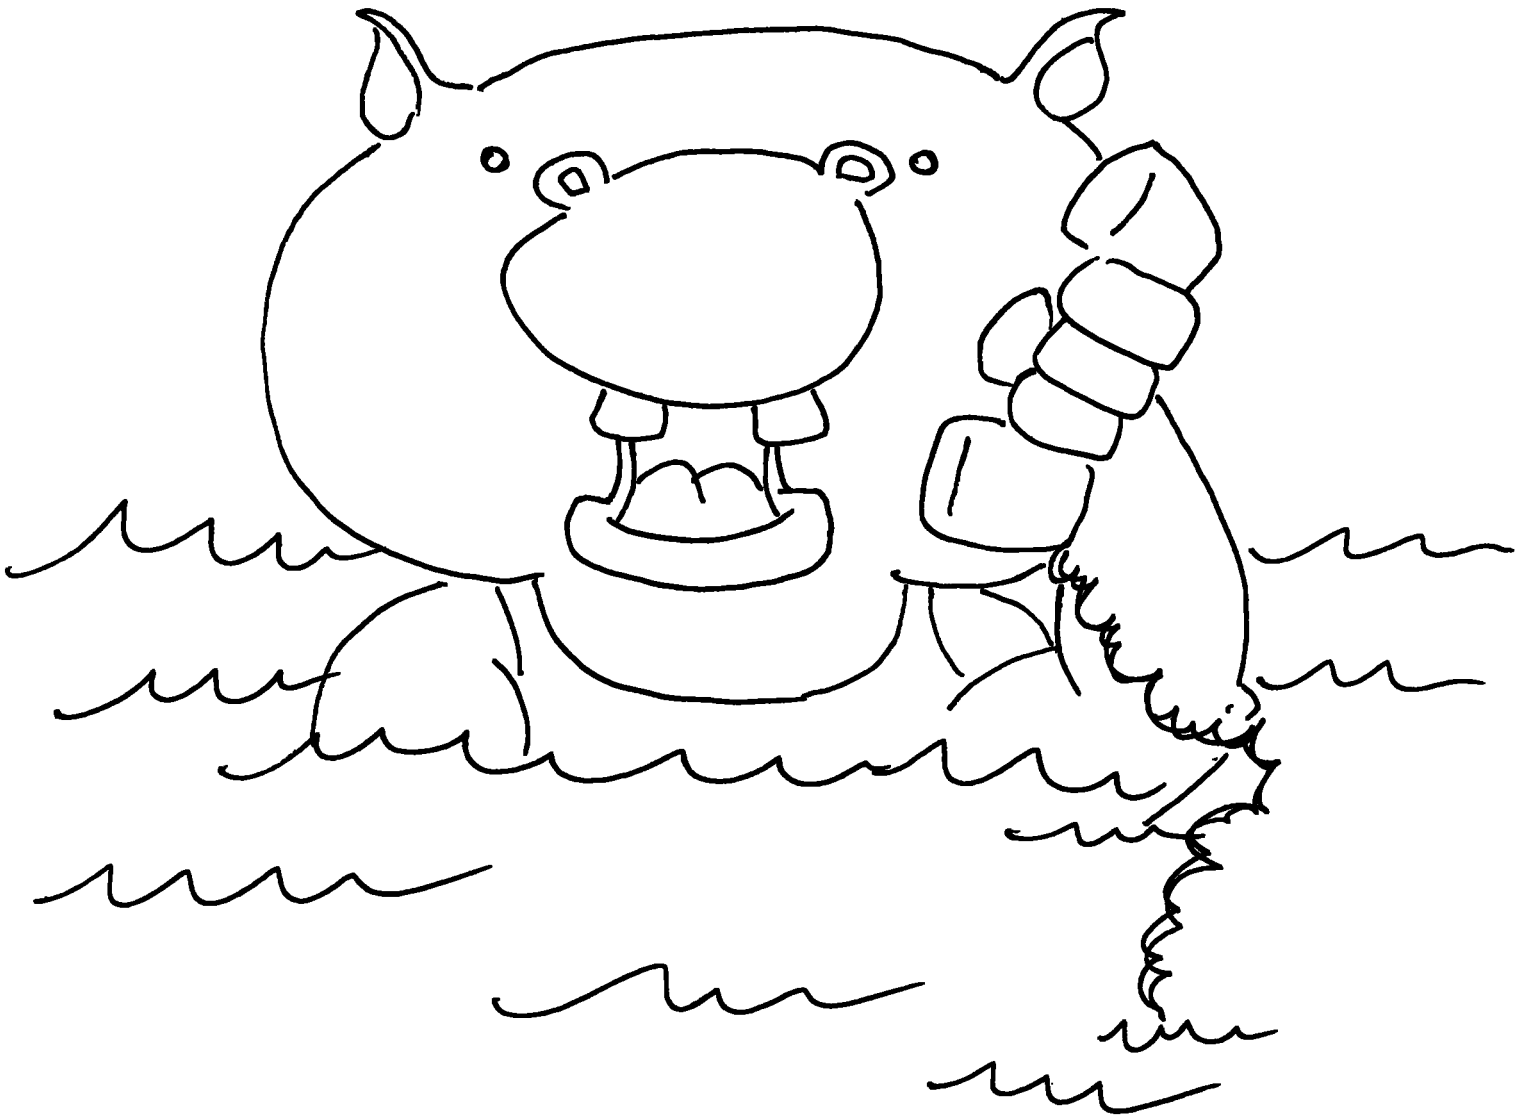

When one of those things was broken, people called Goolay on the phone and asked him to fix it for them with his big shiny plumbing tools. He drove his tools around in a big red truck.

Goolay the Plumber Burns taught Little Mama Burns how to answer the phone when people called because something was broken at their house.

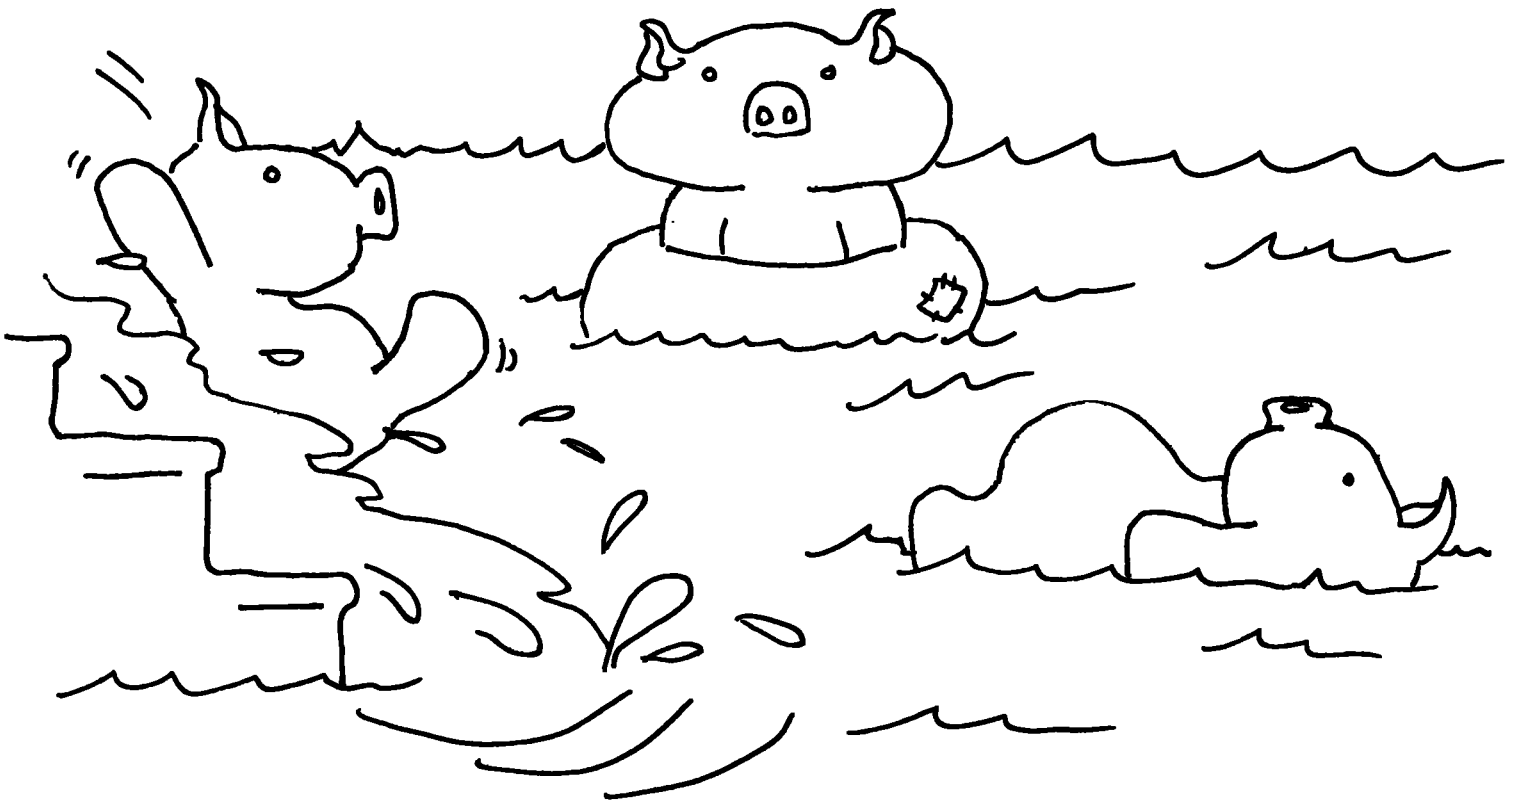

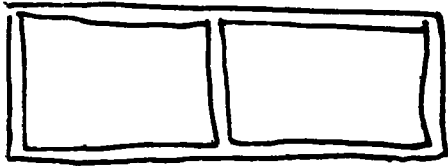

One day Goolay drove to the grocery store to buy milk, bread, olive oil, and Sweet Tarts. Little Mama Burns was all by herself. And then.....then phone rang! Little Mama Burns knew just what to do because Goolay had done such a good job of teaching her. She picked up the phone and said, “Goolay Plumbing – how are you today? We can fix your plumbing the speedy Goolay way!”

The lady that was calling said, “My name is Bertha. I don’t know what to do! My toilet won’t stop flushing ever since Henry went poo!”

Henry was Bertha's pet pig-hog. She took him to the park, she let him eat Fun-yuns, and she sat on the couch with him to watch Dancing with the Stars. Henry also went poo in the toilet just like Bertha. But that day he pooped too much and the toilet would not stop flushing!

The water kept coming out and it went down into the basement. Pretty soon the basement was filling up with water. It got higher and higher! It got so high that Henry the pig-hog could swim in it! He invited his pig-hog friends over and they played and had so much fun!

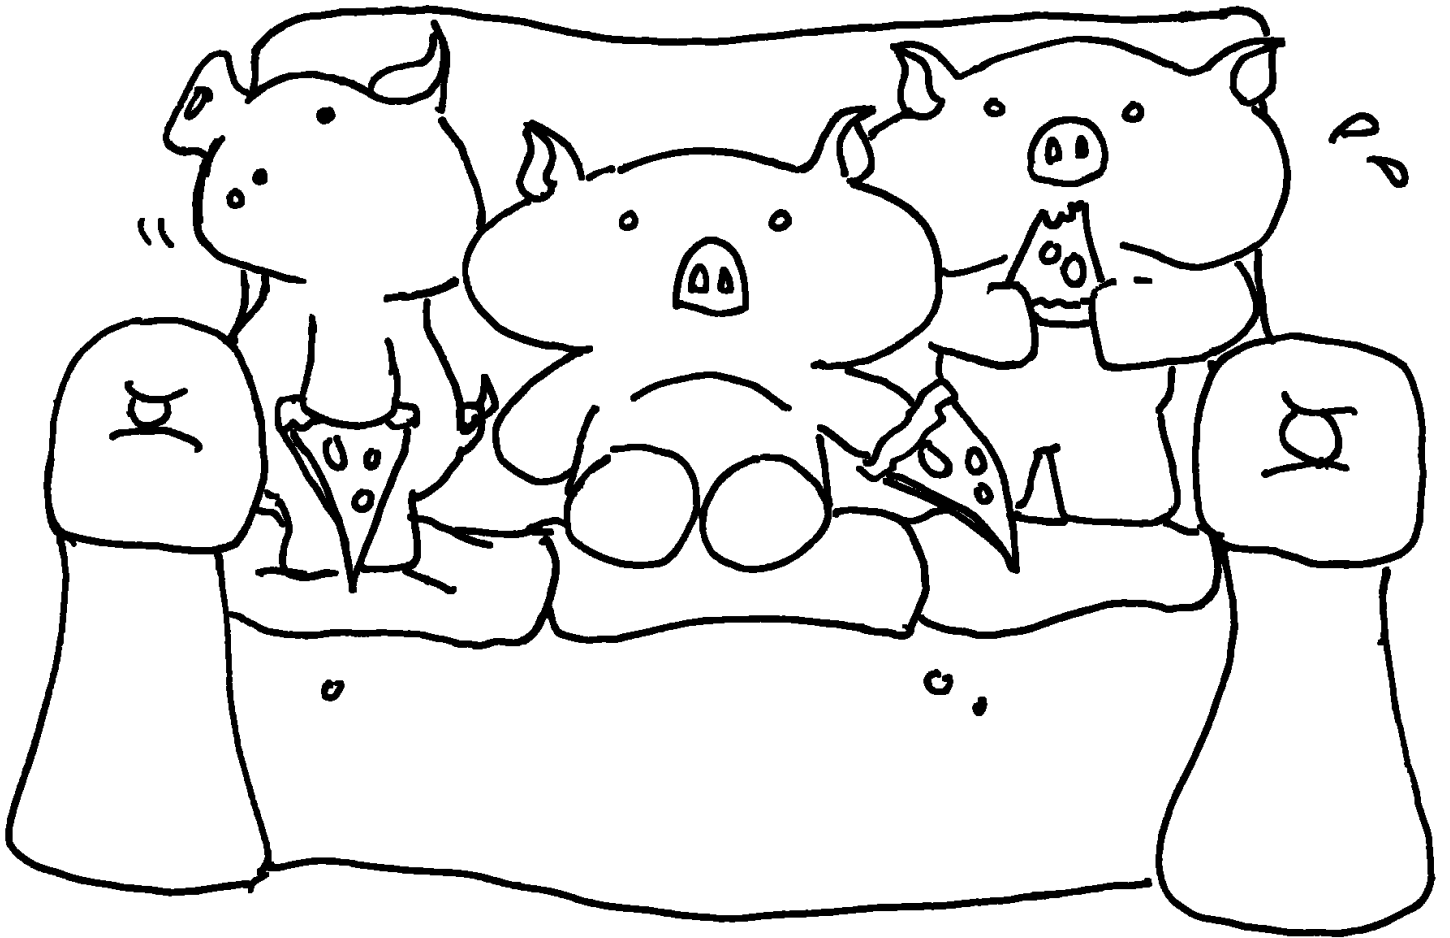

But Bertha knew the toilet had to be fixed, and Goolay the Plumber could fix it! Little Mama Burns was sure of it! She said, “Don’t worry Bertha, Goolay can help you! It doesn’t matter if there’s a lot of poo!”

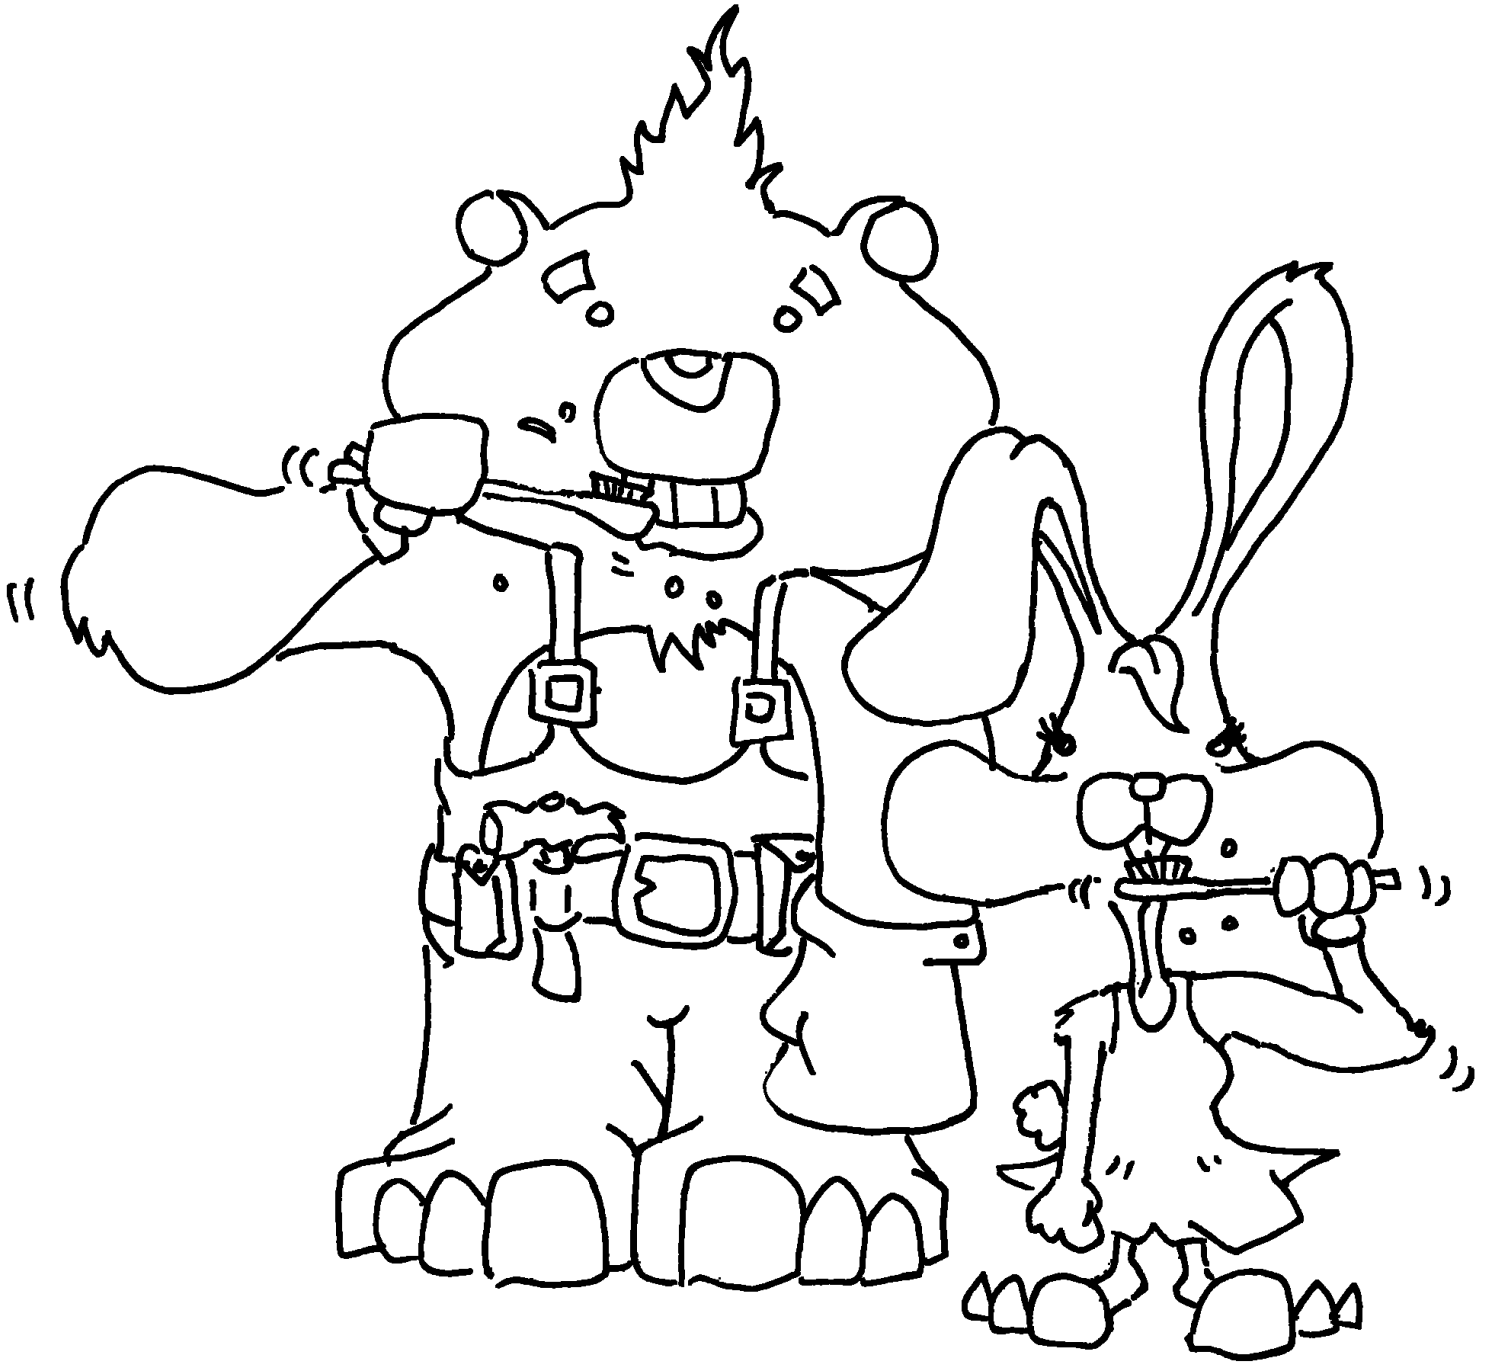

Just then Goolay came back from the grocery store with his milk, bread, olive oil, and Sweet Tarts. "Hurry, hurry! There's work to do. Bertha's toilet is overflowing and now her basement is a swimming pool!" said Little Mama Burns to Goolay.

So Goolay drove his red truck to Bertha and Henry's house. He used his big shiny plumbing tools and fixed the toilet really fast. Then he said to Henry, "I'm sorry to say you won't be able to swim in your basement anymore today."

So Henry and his pig-hog friends ordered a pizza.

Goolay told Little Mama Burns that she did a good job that day. He said she could answer the phone again tomorrow and even the next day! Then they ate some Sweet Tarts and brushed their teeth afterward so that they would not get cavities.

THE END.

To: Brooky
From: Shane & Tracy